NES All School Enrichment

We were extremely pleased with this year's Plymouth State University's program titled, "I've Got Your Back." Our students and faculty were entertained and educated by their live community morning performance which included theatre, dance, and music. Their presentation helped us "to understand our own power in resolving difficult issues, finding positive solutions in order to make school a place where all children thrive." Their performance was followed by 4th and 5th grade workshops focused on raising awareness about bullying and empowering bystanders. For more information, please go to Plymouth.ed/tiger.
